Chair's Message – Nelson Phillips (Imperial College London) introduces this issue of the OMT Division newsletter, and recaps the Philadelphia meeting.

Ann Langley (HEC Montreal) gives us a recap of the academic program.

Marc-David Seidel (University of British Columbia) provides a recap of this year's vibrant PDW program!

Jo-Ellen Pozner (UC Berkeley) shares important information about research committee.

Past Division Chair Candace Jones (Boston College) provides a recap of the dissertation proposal workshop oriented toward early stage students, which supported 20 doctoral students in developing the conceptualization of their dissertations.

Mark Ebers (University of Cologne) & Patricia Thornton (Texas A&M University) report on the successful OMT Doctoral Consortium with students 50 students on or nearing the job market.

Brayden King (Northwestern University) & Anne-Claire Pache (ESSEC) report on the Junior Faculty Consortium -- complete with 40 participants from nearly 15 countries!

Christine Quinn Trank (Vanderbilt University) and Bill Foster (University of Alberta) report on Teaching Roundtables.
Derek Harmon (University of Southern California) provides an update on the Communication Committee -- the team responsible for the website, social media, listserv, and newsletters.

Other AOM-related Division News and Announcements

Jo-Ellen Pozner (UC Berkeley) and Emily Block (Notre Dame) reflect on our successful New and Returning Member Networking and Research Forum in Vancouver this year.

Mabel Abraham (Columbia, 2015 Pondy winner) interviews Martha Feldman, the 2015 Distinguished Scholar award recipient.

Saralara Marquez-Gallardo (Cass) interviews Joep P. Cornelissen, Saku Mantere and Eero Vaara, winners of the 2015 Best Published Paper Award.

Laura Claus (Cambridge University) interviews Valentina Assenova and Olav Sorenson, winners of the 2015 Best International Paper Award.

Bjoern Mitzinneck (Cornell) interviews Itziar Castello (Universidad Carlos III de Madrid) and David Barbera (Institute of Innovation and Knowledge Management INGENIO), winners of the 2015 Best Entrepreneurship Paper Award.

Eunice Rhee (Seattle University) reports on the social media team that was roving the halls at AOM.

Upcoming
Academy of Management 2016 in Anaheim CA is here! Sign up review and make sure you submit your paper/symposium/PDW to the program.

Also consider applying for and attending our upcoming PDW on getting published in top tier journals, at the International Association for Chinese Management Research (IACMR) Meeting in Hangzhou, China.

In Closing

Finally, please like us on Facebook and follow us on Twitter.

A special thanks goes out to our 2014-2015 sponsors! For future sponsorship information, contact Nelson Phillips, OMT Division Chair.