2007 OMT JUNIOR FACULTY CONSORTIUM  August 3-5, 2007

The OMT division is pleased to present the annual OMT Junior Faculty workshop. If you hold an assistant professor rank (or its equivalent), this professional development workshop is for you. The workshop tries to make available the knowledge that you need to prosper in both the local and global academic environment. The workshop focuses on strategies for impact as a scholar and teacher, as well as on building a career in diverse professional settings. In the workshop, you will have a chance to interact with an exciting team of workshop Fellows through panels, discussion and informal talk, and to meet many other peers early in their careers.

The roster of Fellows for the 2007 Workshop includes:

- Christina Ahmadjian (Hitotsubashi University)
- Diane Burton (MIT)
- Lisa Cohen (London Business School)
- Tina Dacin (Queen's University)
- Janet Dukerich (University of Texas at Austin)
- Marta Elvira (Lexington College)
- John Freeman (University of California at Berkeley)
- Royston Greenwood (University of Alberta)
- Joe Labianca (University of Kentucky)
- Jacqueline Meszaros (National Science Foundation)
- Charles O'Reilly (Stanford University)
- Damon Phillips (University of Chicago)
- Elaine Romanelli (Georgetown University)
- Olav Sorenson (University of Toronto)
- Anne Tsui (Arizona State University)
- Marc Ventresca (University of Oxford)
- James Westphal (University of Michigan)
- Ray Zammuto (University of Melbourne)

The workshop will be held just prior to the Academy of Management meetings in Philadelphia, from Friday August 3rd at 6pm through Sunday August 5th at 11:30 am. On Sunday, you will meet the editors from some of the leading journals in the field including Academy of Management Review, Academy of Management Journal, Administrative Science Quarterly, Organization Science, Journal of Management Studies, Strategic Management Journal, and Strategic Organization to gain insights and tips for publishing in the top journals in our field.

There is limited enrollment to ensure that Fellows and participants have ample time to interact in formal and informal settings. We expect 35-40 new faculty participants and the 18 Fellows. You are more than welcome to self-nominate, but we also encourage deans, department chairs, former workshop alumni and other senior faculty to suggest this workshop to junior faculty whom they think would benefit from the experience. To apply, send a nomination letter (or self-nomination) that includes the following:

1. Name and address with current mail and e-mail addresses, telephone and fax numbers, as well as institutional affiliation

2. A 1-page description of your current research interests that will serve as your introduction to the other participants.

3. Your curriculum vitae.

Apply as soon as possible as space is limited, but no later than May 19, 2006.

Accepted participants will be required to pay $100.00 USD to defer the costs of the Friday night dinner, and Saturday breakfast and lunch. (Small group dinner arrangements will be made for those participants and Fellows interested at local restaurants on Saturday night, but the dinner will on a no-host basis.)

Send nomination electronically to:
Marc-David L. Seidel
University of British Columbia
Sauder School of Business
omtconsort@sauder.ubc.ca
We are looking forward to your participation!

Marc-David L. Seidel (University of British Columbia)
Marvin Washington (University of Alberta)
OMT Representatives-at-Large